

Elevate Your Leadership Amidst Uncertainty: Join Us at the ADIA Leaders Forum 2024!

Navigating the complexities of today's world requires leaders who rise above challenges, innovate amidst uncertainty, and build a path to success. In the face of inflationary pressures, a cost-of-living crisis, and global turbulence, it's easy to feel isolated at the top.

Immerse yourself in a day of strategic preparation and visionary thinking surrounded by a community of like-minded leaders at Australia's exclusive Data, Insights, and Research conference for ADIA leaders.

Note: The Leaders Forum is spread across two days. Day one is for Future Leaders (open to ADIA members and non-members), and Day Two is for industry leaders (members and invited guests only).

DAY 1	FUTURE LEADERS PROGRAM

1:00 - 1:45pm Marketing and Strategy	Lucy Davison Founder and Managing Director Keen as Mustard Marketing	Salience and Staying Power Researchers face an uphill battle. Decades of data have proven that companies which listen to customers and markets have the greatest chance of success. But to build a customer focused organisation means going beyond projects, influencing broad groups of stakeholders over time. To achieve this, researchers must be more than good storytellers or compelling presenters. They must be culture and community builders,
